I have often wondered why trains go faster than bases.

Mrs. E. Edwards
Cheltenham

Well Mrs. Edwards, that certainly is a puzzle. We rang British Rail enquiries who told us that modern trains can travel at anything up to 125 mph (Miles per hour).

Buses however are subject to the national speed restriction of 70 mph (60 mph on a single carriageway) and 30 mph in a built up area, i.e. one in which the street lights are less than 200 feet apart.

You never know, it may bring good luck to those who dared eat them.

A friend told me that the ornamental elephant on my sideboard should point towards the door and that it was bad luck to have it pointing towards the television. I laughed at the idea, but I did turn it round as she had suggested.

Dr David Jackson

wants to know about your sexual problem

A READER WRITES:

Dear Dr Jackson,

I am 29 years old and have been happily married for the last six. Recently I have become aware of a growing desire to fondle my own buttocks. I have been doing this two or three times a day, whenever my wife and children are out of the house.

However I now feel a strong urge to go outside and fondle my buttocks in the garden shed.

I am scared to talk to my local GP as he is a close friend of the family. Should I tell my wife? I am scared that she will leave me.

PL, Warwickshire.

Have any other readers experienced similar urges? Perhaps you have fondled other parts of your body. Write and tell me about it. Write to: Dr. David Jackson, Viz Comic, 16 Lily Crescent, Newcastle upon Tyne NE2 2SP. Please mark your envelope ‘SEXUAL PROBLEM’.
WHERE'S THE TOILET?

Here's a chance for you to test your powers of observation. Every issue we feature a photograph of a toilet taken somewhere in the UK. Do you recognise the urinals pictured below? Perhaps you've used them recently. Study the picture carefully and try to work out where it is. If you're stuck, the answer is printed below.

KILLER WASP SEX VICAR IN GAY NAZI STORM

By our INVESTIGATIVE STAFF

A village vicar has denied taking part in moonlit ceremonies involving naked women. And Rev. Stanley Compton has denied allegations that he is a leading member of a gay nazi movement in the quiet village of Todhamlet.

CHILDREN

And we were unable to find any evidence to support claims that 64 year old Compton was having sex with under age children, some of them boys. But in an outhouse adjoining his home we found firewood, two buckets and a rusty lawn mower.

HORROR

Local residents told us the Rev. Compton came to the village in 1954 and has lived there ever since. They described him as a quiet man, a non-drinker who didn't socialise much but often arranged jumble sales or garden fetes.

NAKED

Reg Dixon, owner of The Golden Lion Hotel in the village told us he had never heard rumours connecting the vicar with midnight sex ceremonies. And his daughter, a shapely 16 year old, told us she was unaware of any satanic activities in the village.

FAT PEOPLE ‘EAT TOO MUCH’

-Cream Buns named in Shock Food Report

Eat too much and you could get fat, according to a report published this week. Specific foods singled out for attention include cream buns, chocolate cake and jam doughnuts.

According to a survey carried out for no particular reason, many people in Britain are already overweight. And the report goes on to claim that people who are fat:

- take up more room than other people
- wear bigger clothes
- are more likely to damage furniture.

CHOCOLATES

We took these startling claims onto the streets to gauge the public’s reaction. Mrs Hilary Foster, 46, agreed that cream buns were fattening, while her friend, 40 year old Margaret Harrison claimed that she had occasionally eaten chocolates but suffered no ill effects.

SWISS ROLL

Shopkeeper Paul Willis, 27, admitted that several fat people had visited his shop in the past and had purchased food items among other things. The manager of a nearby restaurant refused to comment on claims that fat people were among his best customers.

TRIFLE

A woman we later watched enter the restaurant was visibly overweight, but refused to tell us what she was eating or how heavy she was. Her husband then became abusive and we were asked to leave the premises.

A spokesman for the British Medical Authority told us he had not seen the report, and did not wish to make any comment.

A mere 28 years of age and with only 3 record releases to his name, Billy Bragg is already being hailed as one of the angriest young singer/songwriters of the decade.

And song titles like 'Life's a Riot' and 'Which Side Are You On?' give fair warning to would-be listeners that for Billy Bragg pop music is a very serious business.

ANGRIEST

'The Bard Of Barking' as he is known to his family and friends, first came to wide public attention with the release of his earthy, emotive EP entitled 'Between The Wars'. It was a top ten hit, but as Bragg admits 'Between The Wars' wasn't one of his angriest songs.

"I was in quite a good mood the day we recorded it and although the song turned out pretty grim it wasn't quite as angry as it could have been."

ANNOYED

However another track on the EP, 'Which Side Are You On?' sees Bragg at his angriest. "I was really annoyed about the miners' strike at that time. I ended up in the studio swearing at the engineer and throwing things at the producer. Eventually they managed to calm me down a bit, but I must have broken at least a dozen guitar strings recording that one track."

Born in 1957, it wasn't until 1983 that Billy made his first record. But a talent for wrathful songwriting had been evident from an early age.

"I was pretty bad tempered as a baby," he recalls. "At times I'd get furious and throw my food about the room."

"Then one day at school I was particularly angry. I didn't like the system. I had gone red in the face and was beginning to pull my hair out. I was taken to see the school nurse. She suggested I tried harnessing my energy by starting to write protest songs."
The strength (pictured above) have shot straight in at No.1 in this issue's Top Ten singles chart. Their £1.00 cash bribe secured the top slot for their debut single 'Severence'/Understanding You'.

And Maidstone's Killer Rabbits (below) have a surprise hit on their hands. Due to total lack of competition their single 'Captain Marvellous', much played on pirate radio in the south east of England, has flown in at No2 despite a token bribe of only one penny.

Do you and your band have a single that you'd like to see in the charts? The Viz Top Ten is open to all recording artists no matter how small or unknown. And unlike the other charts our Top Ten is totally independent and free of 'hyping' and dominance by the major record labels. It gives you, the smaller bands and labels, a chance to buy some chart action at prices you can afford.

Send us a copy of your record plus a bribe. Obviously the more you send the higher your record will go. Each bribe is valid for one issue's chart only. Remember, all Top Ten slots are up for grabs in our next issue so get those records rolling in. Send them, together with a cash bribe to: Viz Top Ten, Viz House, 16 Lily Crescent, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE2 2SP.

The Killer Rabbits must be the most unlikely pop group in Maidstone. For not only do they have an unlikely name, but their keyboard player appears on stage wearing a hat shaped like a penis.

The current line up has been together for over two years now, but the band's history of unusual clothing goes back a lot further. As long ago as 1980 drummer Morgan Rabbit was wearing women's clothing in a band called The Toolsheds. Killer Rabbits' debut single "Captain Marvellous" is a new entry in the current Viz Top Ten, and the band are hoping to build on this success with a short tour of Holland this summer.

YOU JUST DON'T UNDERSTAND. BRIAN AND I ARE IN LOVE. AND ONE DAY WE'LL BE MARRIED.

JUST LEAVE HER. SHE'LL BE ALRIGHT. SHE'S JUST SO YOUNG. THAT'S ALL.

I DO LOVE BRIAN AND ALWAYS WILL. I DON'T CARE WHAT YOU SAY.

Camilla slammed the door behind her.

I THINK MUMMY'S RIGHT, DARLING.

YOU JUST DON'T UNDERSTAND. BRIAN AND I ARE IN LOVE. AND ONE DAY WE'LL BE MARRIED.

OH MOTHER!

CAMILLA, DADDY, AND I THINK YOU'VE BEEN SEEING A LITTLE TOO MUCH OF BRIAN LATELY. PERHAPS IT WOULD BE BEST, IF...

I'LL SEE YOU TONIGHT, DARLING. AND REMEMBER, I LOVE YOU, BRIAN.

Their parents called it 'Puppy Love', but despite her tender years Camilla Johnson knew her love for Brian would last forever. And she intended to prove it...

IN LOVE AT YOUR AGE. YOU'RE TOO YOUNG TO KNOW THE MEANING OF THE WORD.

OH I DO HOPE SO.

But little did her parents know Camilla already had plans to prove them wrong. That night she met Brian in a quiet pub.

"I've got the tickets. Our train leaves at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning."

"Oh Brian, London sounds so wonderful. We'll be so happy there, together!"

"Yes, you can get a job in showbusiness, and I can become a professional footballer. Then we'll get married."

"Yes we're going."

That night Camilla silently packed her bags and left a tear stained note for her parents.

"It was a long, sleepless journey filled with the exciting hopes and dreams of the life that lay ahead. The miles slowly drifted by until at last their train was pulling into a bustling Kings Cross Station."

"Oh Brian, London is so big!"

"Yes, darling. So many people, faces without names."

And soon she was back in Brian's arms. But this time to stay.
YOU KIDS MUST BE NEW IN TOWN. YOU LOOK LIKE YOU COULD USE A CUP OF TEA.

WELL, ERM...

WE CERTAINLY COULD.

I'M AFRAID WE ONLY HAVE £15 BETWEEN US. IT'S OUR LIFE'S SAVINGS.

YOU CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL WHO YOU TALK TO AROUND HERE. BY THE WAY, I DON'T SUPPOSE YOU TWO HAVE ANYWHERE TO STAY TONIGHT?

I'M AFRAID NOT.

WELL FUNNILY ENOUGH I'VE GOT A FLAT YOU CAN USE, BUT YOU'LL HAVE TO PAY ME £200 CASH IN ADVANCE.

AH WELL, THAT'LL DO.

HERE'S THE ADDRESS. SEE YOU AROUND.

That evening Brian and Camilla looked up the address the stranger had given them. Tired and lost, they asked a passerby for directions.

Exhausted and penniless the young lovers settled down for a night on a rain-soaked park bench.

OOF. FULLCHESTER GARDENS. I'M AFRAID YOU'RE FORTY YEARS TOO LATE. IT WAS BOMBED DURING THE WAR. IT'S JUST A CAR PARK NOW.

OHH! BRIAN YOU'RE SUCH A COMFORT. TOMORROW I WILL GO TO THE CLUB IN THE WEST END. THE ONE WHICH A STRANGER RECOMMENDED TO US WHILE WE WERE ON THE TRAIN. AND I WILL GET A JOB IN SHOWBUSINESS.

DON'T WORRY DARLING WE MAY HAVE LOST OUR MONEY, BUT WE STILL HAVE EACH OTHER.
P.C. Victor Foxtrot

The Strictly No Nonsense Copper

Excuse me officer, could you help me across the road?

I'll help you down the nick in a minute, Mary Bleedin' Poppins!

Now piss aaaaaf!!

Nearby...

It's a goal! Yippee!

Wah!

Punt!

Ooops!

Erm... Can I have my ball back please?

Listen, Tinkerbell. I'm the Poliss, right?!!

You don't mess with me!

Now scram!!

K-thudd!

Umph!

Now then, what have we here?

Come on grandad, shift your arse!

But I'm just waiting for a bus.

Oh yeah? And I suppose you must be Cinderella, eh? Move along now.

But... my bus...

I said move it!

That was absolutely uncalled for! I shall be reporting this...

Are you comin' at me with that stick?

Bit of a smart arse are you?

Oof!

Klonk!

Right! Now move along!!

Yaaagh!!

I said move along!!

Right son! You're fuckin' nicked!!
The next morning Camilla visited the club which had been recommended by a stranger whom they had met on the train. But she was in for a big surprise.

Shocked and in tears, Camilla rushed back into Brian's waiting arms.

OH BRIAN! OH BRIAN!

OH DEAR, EVERYTHING HAS TURNED SOUR FOR US IN LONDON, BRIAN.

YES, OUR DREAMS LIE IN TATTERS, WHAT ARE WE TO DO?

OH MUMM, DADDY IT'S YOU.

YES, WE THOUGHT WE'D FIND YOU HERE IN LONDON WE'VE BEEN SO WORRIED.

AND WE NOW REALISE THAT WE STILL HAVE A LOT TO LEARN ABOUT LIFE AND ABOUT LOVE.

YES, AND NOW WE REALISE HOW WRONG WE WERE TO DISMISS YOUR LOVE FOR EACH OTHER.

OH BRIAN! IT WAS AWFUL.

IT'S ALL RIGHT DARLING, YOU'RE WITH ME NOW.

CAMILLA! BRIAN!

YES, DEAR, LET'S GO HOME.
